DISCOVER A World of INFORMATION ON Asia!

When you subscribe to Education About Asia, you will join the thousands of K-16 educators who have found this magazine to be an exciting and highly practical teaching resource.

Now in its fifth year, EAA will enhance your understanding of Asia, enabling you to better prepare your students for the complex world of the 21st century. With each issue, you will enjoy:

- Highly readable and stimulating articles on all areas of Asia.
- Subjects ranging from ancient cultures and literatures to current events.
- Essays describing educational programs and techniques that have been tested in classrooms similar to your own.
- A concrete guide to resources for classroom use—films, videos, books, curriculum guides, websites, software, other educational tools.
- Interesting and unusual "Facts About Asia."
- Occasional thematic issues on topics of particular interest, such as "Teaching About the Religions of Asia" (Spring 1997), "Teaching Asian Geography" (Spring 1998), "Teaching Asian History" (Spring 1999), and "Teaching About Asian Economies" (Spring 2000).

To review subscription information, the table of contents for all issues, as well as selected articles, please see our website: www.aasianst.org. Special discounts apply for orders of twenty or more back issues.

Introducing A WORLD VIEW OF SOCIAL ISSUES

Andrew L. Cherry, Barry University, Series Editor

Greenwood Press's A World View of Social Issues series is designed to provide students with one-volume reference sources exploring social issues from a world perspective. Each volume addresses a particular issue such as Women's Rights, and Teen Violence. These topics are explored in chapters devoted to specific countries—that are representative of different world regions—chosen due to the significance of the issue in that country, recognition of its importance, and the country's efforts to deal with it. Students will discover the global scope of these issues and compare and contrast the similarities and differences in how these diverse cultures address them. Volumes in the series feature:

- Cross-Cultural comparisons allowing students to draw their own conclusions
- Chapters include developed, developing and undeveloped nations to provide a broad perspective
- Both historical and current information concerning each issue
- Both social and political views and suggested solutions provided
- Bibliographies for further research for each chapter

New Series of Primary Sources from Discovery Enterprises, Ltd.
Researching American History
Brought to you by the publishers of the Perspectives on History Series

This series introduces students in upper elementary grades and beyond to primary source documents. The series is geared to younger students, ESL students, and those with lower reading skills, who need extra help with understanding and evaluating documents.

Each volume has short excerpts from written and graphic documents, with a summary in simpler English on the same page, and a vocabulary list to define archaic and/or challenging words.

At the end of each book are classroom activities for evaluating documents and a variety of suggested research projects and historical fiction for readers in grades 4-10.

There will be 20 books in the series by June 2001.

Now available: The Colonies, The Revolutionary War, Native Americans, Children at Work, Slavery, The Great Depression, Westward Expansion, and Woman's Suffrage.

Your Moving Checklist

- ☒ Lots of boxes. Try the grocery store, the photocopy room, and your brother-in-law.
- ☒ Newspaper for wrapping. Pick up a couple at work, some at the corner convenience store, and, oh yes—the papers your brother-in-law has piled up in his kitchen.
- ☒ A truck. Hire professional movers, rent one from your local rent-a-wreck, or convince your brother-in-law to loan you his pickup.
- ☒ Change your phone number. Because by now, you'll be tired of talking to your brother-in-law.
- ☐ Notify NCSS of your new address. If we don't know where you are, we can't send you your membership benefits!

Be sure to notify us in advance so we can be sure your publications follow you! Cut out your Social Education mailing label and send it along with your new address to:
